14 July 2017

This fall, The Airborne Early Warning Association (AEWA) will be shaking things up a little bit by hosting a BBQ Picnic on Saturday, 16 September 2017, instead of the usual Friday luncheon at the Tinker Club.

The BBQ Picnic will be a casual environment to bring former and current crew dawgs, knuckle busters and support folks together that have made and make our E-3 Airborne Warning and Control System (AWACS) America's WING! It will be an opportunity to bring the AWACS family together and bond as a group that shares one common and proud heritage – AWACS!!

As a community partner, the AWACS family has played a large role in the growth and prosperity of the local communities surrounding the Tinker Air Force Base complex. Our AWACS families have become part of the remarkable and tremendous fabric, and made lasting, positive impacts to this great State of Oklahoma.

By looking on the AEWA Site, you can see that this BBQ Picnic is a family oriented event, so, please include the real power behind the strength of the AWACS System—the HOMEFRONT! Get signed up, include family members, let's have a great time!
